

For our facility at Antalya Substrat we are looking for a Quality & Logistic Manager with an affinity to the horticultural sector and the motivation to optimise processes and activities.

Quality & Logistic Manager

full time

Your role

In this position you will improve, optimise and develop qualitative procedures, methods and production processes at our production site in Antalya. You will strengthen quality awareness at the location of Antalya Substrat and its supplying partners and contribute to the further development of our quality management system. In addition, you will perform controls (internal audits) and report these, including recommendations, to the General Manager and Head of Quality. In cooperation with the production team you will check and optimise procedures and production processes.

Furthermore, you will be responsible for coordinating the whole supply chain including purchasing, organising the international logistic and handling the import and export procedures of all international purchases. For this you will work closely with suppliers, international logistic companies and customs brokers.

You will assist colleagues where necessary and support them in achieving the quality objectives and you will deputise for the Head of Quality in his absence. You will work from our location in Kepez/Antalya.

We are looking for someone who

- thinks and acts at least at B.Sc. +level;
- has several years of relevant work experience in a similar position;
- has knowledge and experience of quality systems;
- has knowledge of professional horticulture (knowledge of potting soil and substrates is an advantage);
- has an excellent command of English (must) and Turkish;
- can work independently as well as in a team;
- is accurate and persistent and works in a structured way and with precision.

What we offer

A varied and challenging job with a salary and conditions that suit the position. An informal company culture with motivated colleagues and growth opportunities in a professional organization where innovation, customer focus and congeniality are central.

Antalya Substrat

Antalya Substrat is part of Van der Knaap Group of Companies which has its Head Office in the Netherlands. Antalya Substrat aims to deliver sustainable high-quality rooting and growing products and services for the Turkish and surrounding horticulture markets. The products and services provided by the Van der Knaap Group helps growers achieve the best possible outcome. For our substrates we use natural raw materials such as coco and peat.
